

Please keep planes Cell Phone Free. I can't think of anything more annoying than being squeezed into a coach seat and having two loud mouth, blabberheads yapping about their weekend or trying to sell ice to eskimos. Please protect this brief moment of solitude in this information, communication overload society that we live in. Thanks.